SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

MR. C. O. DUKER

Noble Students,

I recall that in the 1954 Treasure Chest I gave you a recipe for happiness. This last Christmas I was given a better illustration than any I knew at that time. Now, three years later, I add to my previous message.

Children are sometimes taught to make wishes—over wishbones, lost teeth, shooting stars, etc. We don't really expect the wishes to come true but we make them think that they will if they wish hard enough. Sometimes we encourage them to make "three wishes" just to give us some hint as to what they want for Christmas.

For some such reason and as a follow-up, I asked our daughter if she got all she "wished for" for Christmas. She said, "Yes,—well there were some things that I wanted but I did not think I could get them, so I didn't wish for them."

Maybe that is just being practical, or even clever, but it did make her a nice Christmas. She got what she wished for!

May you be equally happy!

Sincerely,
Principal

PROPHECY

Panic Pat and her Pulverizing Plymouth has just won the championship Hell Drivers award in the Pamona Pancake Parade.

Carl Black (Einstein II) is now Dean and Housemother at an all-girls college.

Bonnie Boardman now owns a string of root beer stands and is supplying her own car hops.

Earl Cleaver now runs his own club by the name of "The Cleaver Club," which is engaged in gambling, cards, pool, poker, etc.

After 10 glorious, heroic years of service in the Marines, Eddie Curless has now made the rank of Pvt. 1/c.

Jean Daugherty, who was the former Jean Hendry, is now a grease monkey in Joe's hot rod and custom shop.

Julia Eckerley is now the lap secretary for the Wolfrum Manufacturing Co. (Manufacturers of what?)

Reggie Garrison, who is still going to night school for the tenth year, has been promoted to a sophomore.

Leo Hanline, now the Wabash County truant officer, has been having trouble keeping his kids in school.

Dennis Kramer, play boy of the century, is trying to get legislation to make harems legal. He thinks that it is a necessary evil.

Linda McCloud, now known as "blood loving Linda," is a nurse. She has married a doctor and since business hadn't been so good, they are raising their own patients.

Myron Ridgeway owns a 2,000 acre ranch, a mansion, and 50,000 head of cattle. He is waiting for Linda to get out of school.

Carole Roller, secretary of her engineer husband (R. G.) was quite thrilled with the beautiful bridge he built. However, she wrote a letter to the wrong company, and he built it over the wrong river.

Ruth Truss, after ten years of being engaged, is finally taking the gib step. The delay was due to Raymond's spending of money for custom rods throughout the years.

Phyllis Thompson has married Larry Patton and they're living out West with the Indians, producing a tribe of their own.

David Wolfrum finds that having a wife for a secretary makes things much more convenient than otherwise.

Tom Ogan has his own fleet of atomic powered shrimp boats. Something that he rigged up by himself.

Carol Parke is one of the top society gals in the community. She isn't as bashful as she was in school.

Elizabeth Ridenour has turned out to be so good at being a secretary that she has taken over her boss's job. A man gets pretty heavy on a girls' lap though.

Kay Ridenour has just started her fifth year of teaching geometry. She has replaced Mr. Bechtold.

Herbert Ringel has just returned from lower Slobovia where he gave a whistling concert.

Stanley Dyson has a job substituting for hyenas with laryngitis.

Jerry Carter is the third assistant to the fourth manager of the flat tire changers at Carter's Sales & Service.

Don Gullett, boxing champion, has just won the Golden Gloves title made out of tin.

John Bannister, now a doctor, uses his talents on school teachers only. After cutting them to pieces, he always has a piece left over when he puts them back together.

Mona Hansing, the wife of Jeff who is a nuclear physicist, has trouble keeping track of her 11 children because Jeff keeps disintegrating them.

Marilyn Manning is a nurse and is working for Doctor Scratch in Itchtown, Indiana.

Rose Lane is riding the high seas as a Wac in the U. S. Marines.

Brice Shepherd is now a coach for a famous all-girls basketball team.

Nelda Pollard has just won the Rookie of the Year award for the 500 mile race in Indianapolis. She is the first woman in history to complete the race.

Theeonn Sloan attended Purdue University and is now P. L. Wilson's professor. P. L. figures that something is wrong, but little did he know that she had that needed charm.

Shirley Ogan who took lessons on how to get along with her mother-in-law, is now finding out that it's her husband that she has to get along with.
